DETAILED ACTION

This action is responsive to communications: Amendment, filed on 6/21/08.

Claims 1, 7, 8, 11, and 14-17 are pending in this application. Claims 1 and 11 are independent claims. In the Amendment, filed on 6/21/08, claims 4, 5, 12, and 14 are cancelled, and claim 1, 7, 11, and were amended, and claims 15-17 were added.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 7, 8, 11, and 14-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Straub US Patent 5,905,492 in view of McEvilly US Patent 2003/0151621.

As per claim 1, Straub 5,905,492, teaches a digital broadcasting receiver, comprising:
receiving means for receiving GUI data the GUI data, including keyword information relating to the GUI data; (see Straub; col. 5, lines 65-col. 6, line 16) installing means for selectively installing the GUI data received by said receiving means; (see Straub; (see Straub, col. 2, lines 50-col. 3, lines 6) displaying means for displaying the installed GUI data on the display unit; (see Straub, col. 2, lines 50-col. 3, lines 6; col. 5, lines 65-col. 6, lines 16) and storage means for storing a user's preference information, wherein, after said receiving means receives the GUI data, said installing means effects comparison as to whether the keyword information relating to the GUI data corresponds to the user's preference information, displays a selecting screen for causing a user to select whether or not to install the corresponding GUI data if the keyword information corresponds to the user's preference information, and executes installation of the GUI data if the user selects installation thereof on the displayed selecting screen. (see Straub, col. 7, lines 5-20; the title of the currently selected theme is the keyword; col. 8, lines 5-35)

However, Straub fails to teach receiving a broadcasting wave including a digital television signal.

McEvilly teaches receiving a broadcasting wave including a digital television signal. (see McEvilly, paragraph 0072)

It would have been obvious to an artisan at the time of the invention to include McEvilly's teaching with method of Straub in order allow users to update their television's graphical interface.

As per claim 7, Straub and McEvilly teaches a digital broadcasting receiver according to claim 1. McEvilly further teaches wherein:

the keyword information is characteristics information of a remote control; the preference information is tendency information for a user's operation; and the GUI data to be installed is selected based on comparison between the characteristics information and the tendency information. (see McEvilly, paragraphs 0231—0234 and 0252)

As per claim 8, Straub and McEvilly a digital broadcasting receiver according to claim 7. McEvilly further teaches wherein the tendency information includes at least one of a history of an operation for executing a given function, a type of mis-operation caused before execution of the given function, a hand holding the remote control, and information as to whether the remote control is laid in use or held in use. (see McEvilly, paragraph 0276; paragraph 0138,)

As per claim 11, it is rejected under the same rationale as claim 1. Supra.

As per claim 14, it is rejected under the same rationale as claim 7. Supra.

As per claim 15, Straub and McEvilly teach a digital broadcasting receiver according to claim 1. Straub teaches wherein the GUI data comprises data for changing a menu in a graphical user interface. (see Straub, col. 2, lines 50-col. 3, lines 6)

As per claim 16, Straub and McEvilly teach a digital broadcasting receiver according to claim 1. Straub teaches wherein the GUI data comprises a menu screen image. (see Straub, col. 2, lines 50-col. 3, lines 6)

As per claim 17, Straub and McEvilly teach a digital broadcasting receiver according to claim 1. wherein the GUI data comprises data for changing a menu to correspond to a remote control(see McEvilly, paragraphs 0231—0234 and 0252)

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 7, 8, 11, and 14-17 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
